Additional reduced-speed studio-recorded and text versions are great tools for beginners. A built in dictionary is easily accessible and provides easy to understand definitions.

Traditional gapfill exercises have taken on new features. If the student doesn't know the word, the original phrase can be played back or Teentalk Canada spells the word out loud letter by letter. Teentalk Canada contains new grammar exercises that challenge the student to make connections between simple grammatical rules and example phrases. The program checks students' answers and provides students and teachers with a continuous progress record. The program also has a special area for teachers, with printable exercises and ideas for group work and pair work.
